Communities That Care

Resources for Cheltenham Youth and Families

Cheltenham Communities That Care (CTC) is a group of community members working together to help our youth make healthy, pro-social choices to avoid the risk factors that can lead to drug use and delinquency.

CTC supports the following strategies:

Sticker Shock

Partnership with local alcohol distributors to raise community awareness of the penalties associated with purchasing or providing alcohol to minors.

Call Tanesha Outterbridge at 610-630-2111 ext. 243.

Say It Straight

National model program designed to teach youth the skills necessary to effectively say “no” to situations that put them at risk.

Call Vivianne Schorle at 610-630-2111 ext. 257.

Underage Drinking and Targeted Drug Patrols

Enforcement of underage drinking laws and police details targeting drug activity in areas where youth frequent.

Call Sgt. Richard Schaffer of Cheltenham Police Department at 215-885-1600.

Aggression Replacement Training (ART)

Researched-based approach for helping youth understand and control their anger.

Call Rich Kearney of The Academy at 610-290-3364.

Responsible Alcohol Management Program (RAMP)

Training for alcohol-serving establishments on how to identify underage individuals and prevent dangerous drinking.

Call Tanesha Outterbridge at 610-630-2111 ext. 243.

Positive Action

Evidence-based program that promotes an intrinsic interest in learning and encourages cooperation among students in grades K-6.

Call Dr. Cheryl Horsey of Cheltenham School District at 215-881-6333.

Youth Sub-Committee

Leadership development and pro-social opportunities for youth to strengthen their community.

Call Tanesha Outterbridge at 610-630-2111 ext. 243.
